About the SAT

Get ready to take the SAT!

Nearly every college in America accepts the SAT or Subject Tests as a part of its admissions process. That's why more than two million students take the SAT every year. The test is usually taken by high school juniors and seniors.

Learn more about the SAT and SAT Subject Tests, register online, and view and send your SAT scores.

Register Online for the SAT.

New SAT Tool SAT In Focus

The College Board has developed two new tools—SAT® Skills Insight™ and My SAT Online Score Report—to help you better understand your SAT scores, prepare for the test, and succeed in college. Used together, these tools can help you get the most out of your scores and gain insight into the academic skills you need to do better in the classroom, on the test, and in college.

SAT Skills Insight

SAT Skills Insight is a free online tool that helps you understand the academic skills that are tested on the SAT so that you can take the next steps to reach your desired score.

- Academic skills tested on the SAT
- Academic skills typical of students who score within each score band
- Suggestions for improvement
- Real SAT questions and answers

My SAT Online Score Report

My SAT Online Score Report is a free online tool that gives you the meaning behind your numbers and insight into your strengths and weaknesses. It also offers:

- Details of your performance by question type and difficulty level
- National, state, and high school percentiles
- Your essay question and scanned response
- Career and major searches
- Self-guided demo of the score report available at Understand Your Scores demo page.

You can access My SAT Online Score Report at www.collegeboard.com about one week after you have received notice that your scores are available online.
